

JONATHAN TUNG

FRONT-END DEVELOPER

ABOUT ME

I'm a front-end developer based in Toronto. I have a passion for creating web applications that are great to look at, interactive, and efficiently functional. I'm currently experimenting with incorporating sprite animations in my projects. When I'm not in front of a computer I could be found organizing events and herding cats ... I mean people for the tabletop gaming community in Toronto.

SKILLS

Agile methodology
Pair programming
Team-based development
Responsive web design
Accessible website design
Project scope management
Mobile and desktop first web development
Technical writing

TECHNICAL SKILLS

HTML
CSS
Sass Javascript
jQuery
React
Git
Github
Java
Python
SQL
Confluence
Qlikview

CONTACT ME

Mobile: 647-234-0083
jonathan@jonathantung.dev
<https://jonathantung.dev>

WORK EXPERIENCE

Precima

BI Reporting Developer - (Co-op student)
May - December 2015

- Gained experience developing UIs by creating and maintaining client-facing dashboard applications using Qlikview
- Designed and optimized database table structures
- Maintained and contributed to team documentation wiki using Confluence
- Worked in a small team of 5-6 people using Agile project management methodology

Teambuy

Junior Desktop Support Specialist
February - July 2013

- Demonstrated problem solving and interpersonal skills by providing technical support to an office of 200 people
- Met deadlines by configuring desktop computers for a whole office within a month
- Managed user access and permissions on local network using Windows Server

ACADEMIC PROFILE

Hackeryou College of Technology

Web Development Immersive Program
2019

York University

Honours Bachelor of Science - Computer Science
2014 to 2018

University of Guelph

Master of Science - Molecular Plant Pathology
2008 to 2011

University of Toronto

Honours Bachelor of Science - Biology
2003 to 2008